What does the renewed framework mean for classroom practice?

The Renewed Religious Education Curriculum Framework is a core document of Catholic Education Melbourne. It is essential that those teaching in Catholic schools have an understanding of this framework and what it means for classroom practice, particularly in light of the directions and messages of Horizons of Hope.

This professional learning program is for classroom teachers, Religious Education leaders and principals with an emphasis on a team approach. The aim of this program is to introduce important aspects of the Renewed RE Curriculum Framework and explore possibilities for designing learning. A critical aspect of the day will be to develop an action plan for the implementation of the Renewed RE Curriculum Framework at the school.

This professional learning program is offered on four occasions during the year as a repeated session.
